Help Us Give Dreamers a Place to Call Home

Last week, President Trump said he supports giving Dreamers of "good moral character"-young people brought to this country unlawfully by their parents-a path to citizenship so they can call America their home permanently.

He's been attacked from Breitbart news and others on the Far Right as "Amnesty Don." He's been attacked from the Far Left for other aspects of his proposal, including funding for border security and limitations on some lawful immigration programs.

Please join us in supporting President Trump and our Republican members of Congress as they fight to give Dreamers-including 19,000 living in Washington-a place to call home.

Our organization, the Mainstream Republicans of Washington, adopted a position supporting Dreamers last year. For background on our position, here is my Op-Ed in the Seattle Times. We also held an Immigration Forum in Bellevue last Fall. Here are notes from that event. Also, please check out the video.

A sensible immigration policy is critical to the success of our state's economy, from fruit harvesting and logging to software and aerospace. A solution for the Dreamers is just one step toward that sensible policy, but it is an essential one and it won't happen unless people like us step forward to make a difference.

Please join us.
